- Dobot's smartphone gimbal Rigiet now comes with GoPro mount
- Permanent price reduction to RRP 199€
- Now available for dealers at Wentronic

Braunschweig, April 17, 2018 – Hollywood-like videos with smartphone or action cams – this is made possible by Rigiet from Dobot, an image stabilizer (gimbal) available at Wentronic. For dealers, the Braunschweig-based family-run company has two good news: the popular smartphone gimbal is now equipped with a bracket for GoPro action cams as standard. After a permanent price reduction Rigiet now is also available for RRP 199 Euro.

Rigiet is not only suitable for hobby filmmakers, but also for professional users who value sharp, shake-free images in every situation. The new GoPro mount, which is supplied as standard with every Rigiet, makes the gimbal ideal for outdoor and sports activities. The robust and at the same time light design also contribute to this. The mount is compatible with all GoPro models.

Three unique, patented precision motors enable unrivalled image stabilization and motif tracking using the auto track function. The control panel integrated into the handle facilitates control, so that it is possible to quickly switch between photo and video mode and the front and rear camera. Zooming and selecting filters and settings are made easy. The Rigiet gimbal also impresses in terms of comfort thanks to an ergonomic mount.
